HANDBOOK ABSTRACT

ABSTRACT

The Business Excellence Awards Winners Handbook 2025 is a compilation celebrating Uganda’s most outstanding brands and businesses, identified through independent market research and direct consumer feedback. Organized by Consumer Publications (U) Limited, the Business Excellence Awards (BEAwards) are the premier recognition of quality, value, service, professionalism, and integrity in the Ugandan marketplace.

This handbook profiles award-winning businesses that have consistently demonstrated excellence, earning the trust and loyalty of customers across the nation. More than just recognition, it highlights stories of innovation, resilience, and leadership that set new benchmarks for success. By honouring these business luminaries, the handbook not only applauds their achievements but also inspires continued commitment to service excellence and customer satisfaction, shaping the future of business in Uganda.

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

With great honor and joy that I present to you the Business Excellence Awards Winners Handbook 2025. This publication is more than a record of recognition; it is a celebration of the businesses and leaders who continue to shape Uganda's economic landscape with resilience, innovation, and unwavering commitment to excellence.

At Consumer Publications (U) Limited, our mission has always been clear: to provide an independent, research-driven platform that identifies and honors brands excelling in quality, value, service, professionalism, and integrity. The Business Excellence Awards are unique because they reflect the true voice of the marketplace—customers and buyers across Uganda whose trust and loyalty define what business excellence truly means.

This handbook brings together the inspiring stories of companies and leaders who have not only excelled in their respective industries but have also set new benchmarks for customer satisfaction, innovation, and sustainable growth. By highlighting these success stories, we aim to encourage a culture of continuous improvement and healthy competition, while fostering business linkages that strengthen Uganda's position in the regional and global marketplace.

As you turn the pages of this handbook, I invite you to celebrate not just the winners but the collective spirit of enterprise that drives Uganda forward. May the stories within inspire you to greater heights, and may they remind us all of the vital role that the private sector plays in building a prosperous and sustainable future for our nation.

Last but not least, I wish to extend great gratitude to the Government of Uganda for providing an enabling environment for businesses to flourish and prosper. We can never take that for granted. Congratulations to all our awardees and thank you for being part of this journey of business excellence.

Production Method of Table Salt from Ocean

This is the oldest method of salt production. It has been used since salt crystals were first noticed in trapped pools of sea water. The sun evaporates most of the water. The concentrated brine precipitates the salt which is then gathered by mechanical harvesting machines. Any impurities that may be present in the brine are drained off and discarded prior to harvesting.

Usually two types of ponds are used. First is the concentrating pond, where the salty water from the ocean or salt lake is concentrated. The second is called the crystallizing pond, where the salt is actually produced.

Crystallizing ponds range from to 40 to 200 acres with a foot-thick floor of salt resulting from years of depositions. During the salt-making season of four to five months, brine flows continuously through these ponds. This is a saturated brine solution, containing as much salt as it can hold, so pure salt crystallizes out of the solution as the water evaporates. Natural chemical impurities are returned to the salt water source. The wet salt cake is fed into the hopper where it is 1st crushed into smaller particles. Then almost crushed particles will pass through wet mill crusher with help of conveyor and crushed into required size particles.

Then required size particles fed into Fluid Bed Dryer (FBD) with the help of a conveyor. Inside the FBD high pressure air with a temperature of about 180°-200°C is fed to dry the salt. The high pressure air creates a fluidizing action and removes all the moisture from the salt, while a high suction Exhaust Blower sucks out all the hot air and vapors along with the salt fines and collects the fines in a Cyclone separator. The fines can hence be collected separately.

Then iodine has been added to dried salt when it is passing through screw conveyor. Then sent for further sizing and sorting to screen. While particles passing through screen will go to silo through screw conveyor for final packing with packing machine as required weight.

Quality Standards

The company adheres to stringent guidelines set by the Uganda National Bureau of Standards (UNBS) and the National Environment Management Authority (NEMA). Its products are certified and licensed by UNBS and ISO statutory bodies.
